

MR. MULKEY'S 2ND GRADE

★ REMINDER ★

Normally I send out only one email per week, but since this Sunday will be the first time "missions" (activity sheet and memory verse) will be due, I just wanted to remind you to check with your child on their progress with those to be sure they don't miss out on earning as many points as they can!

Remember, you can always download/print the current missions from the student web portal. Just look up your child by their last name or PIN, then under the Missions tab, click the "Download this week's missions" link.

I also wanted to mention that there were a few issues with the student web portal that have been fixed this week, including the calendar. Also, the link to sign up for the weekly update text in the first email update I sent last Sunday was incorrect. I didn't realize the email service I use doesn't allow SMS links. So now the link will take you to a page on the class website where you can simply click on the SMS icon to sign up. Finally, this last week's text update went out late (Tuesday morning). This was an anomaly and should not happen again (it will go out Sunday evening).

You can always reply directly to these emails if you have any questions or concerns.

See you all Sunday!

Jonathan
